Short Description

Modern design, high quality of execution and not typical materials make Celta hanging lamps extremely appreciated by lovers of original design and courageous accents at home. Celta design lighting combines the elegance of modern style and the raw character of industrial art. That's why beautiful lamps with bent steel framing are a great proposition for owners of tastefully furnished lofts and minimalist suites. Delicate line, fashionable colors and functionality are the advantages that will be appreciated even by the most demanding.

Description

This light fitting was designed and produced in Europe with a focus on longevity rather than fleeting fads. We encourage our customers to do the same and invest in timeless, and versatile solutions that will seamlessly blend into any space, whether it's the kitchen or the bedroom, both now and in the future.

Having products manufactured in Europe ensures a high level of quality and attention to detail. European manufacturing standards are known for being some of the strictest in the world, which means that the lighting you buy from us is made with precision and care.
